ctorate of Bulgaria Likely to Be Accepted by Austria as a Casus Belli-An Urgent Appeal to Bismarck to Support Austria Against Bussia-Bulgaria's Reply to Bussia's Demands-Violent Earthke Shocks in Germany-A French Village in Flames-Foreign News.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, October 2.—Special prominence is given in this morning's Morning Post to an olicy of the highest importance, The Post is ill's organ. This article has almost ertainly some connection with Chamberlain's nt visit to the Foreign Office. The subpe is an urgent appeal to Bismarck to peace by supporting Austria against coupled with a promise "it he elects to take this he may be certain of the firm adhesion and loyal co-operation ingland." The Post declares that England will not take the lead in the new European ty, "first, because we have domestic matters of the first importance on hand; secman in the country up against them. As it is maintain their alliance in Parliament with the Unionist-Liberals. In other words with the Unionist-Liberals. In other words with the uffair. Unionist-Liberals; in other words, foreign the domestic, has to be indorsed at every point by the Unionists. THIS EXACTLY COINCIDES with the remark made to me by a well in formed politician, who said: "You will find a fancy price this morning. Little of this that the key to the Government's policy is the steek is offering. Some sold last week at necessity of keeping pace with the Unionists $137.50; par value $50. at home and abroad." The conclusion arrived at home and abroad." The conclusion arrived at between the allies seems to be that the foreign policy is to go on a line limited to a contingent intervention. "Germany," says the Post, "ought certainly keep watch by feeling is that the stock is high enough. land if we police the seas. It is made clear that our performance of the Granite Mountain is quoted at $38 to-day, but there is little doing in it. Holders talk of $50 befor January, but they are not very confident. There is on record a bet of $500, made two months ago by a well-known Granite Mountain holder, that the stock would go to $50 within three months. He will undoubtedly lose the money. second duty depends entirely on Bismarck's performance of the first. It is questionable hether Bismarck will respond to this offer; cause his interests are somewhat identified with Russia; second, no definite advantage is pro nised him in return for ad-hesion to the English alliance. We ask much from Rismarck and have little to give. On the other hand it is possible that Russia, threatened with an Anglo-Austrian alliance, and with German opinion strongly against her, $4,000,000 cash.

Hon. Norman J. Colman, Commissioner of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.:

SIR—I notice by newspaper reports that the question of placing an embargo on cattle entering the United States from Canada is being discussed. Knowing, as I do, that Oanada is entirely free from pieuro-pneumonia, or any other contagion, disease of cattle, and that every thing that was capable of carrying the disease from contact with infected animals in quarantine has been destroyed by burning, including the cattle, sheds, fences, feed, ciothing and bags, as well as manure, no trace of the disease can possibly have escaped outside, and since its discovery no animals have been permitted to leave the quarantine, nor will they be as long as there is the least possible danger. I am glad to learn from Dr. Salmon that he intends visiting the quarantine with me on the 10th of October, when I will give him every opportunity of judging of our system. In this connection may I suggest that it might satisfy the cattlemen of the United States if you were to send a qualified veterinarian to remain at Quebec cattle quarantine permanently or for some mouths, to whom we would give every facility for knowing the condition of the health of animals in quarantine and in the Dominion generally, as much so as if he were one of our own inspectors.

Bureau of Labor Report.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 2 .- The second annual report of the Bureau of Labor, now in course of nual report of the Bureau of Labor, now in course of preparation, will be a much more comprehensive document than the report laid before Congress last winter. A thorough examination has been made of the relations of convict labor to free labor, and every Penitentiary, jail and work-house in the United States, where the inmates are employed in industrial pursuits, has been visited by the agents of the Bureau. Their reports will be carefully tabulated, and taking these tables as a basis, it is believed that the extent to which the independent laborer or mechanic is affected by the prison-workers can be shown with sufficient exactness to serve as a guide for future legislation on the subject. The report will also include statistics touching labor strikes in this country. Total of time ranging from Journal of the country. Total of time ranging from Journal of the most of consequence that has occurred in the United States within that period. From late data collected deductions of a general character will be made, with a view to the establishment of certain rules that may aid in forecasting the probable result of future strikes and in demonstrating the effects of such concerted movements upon the laboring and employing class and the industries affected. The full report will probably be completed about the beginning of the coming year. preparation, will be a much more comprehe

Corn was as weak and depressed as wheat, the bad break in Ohicago provisions assisting toward the decline in that market, and the decline there weakening our own. The deferred options suffered most loss at this point, as the pressure to sell was directed principally against the months when the new crop will be arriving. Every one is now satisfied the crop will be large enough for all requirements, and the present weather is rather aiding instead of retarding the maturing of the crop. THE city Democrats should not conclude that one weak ticket can be easily beaten with another weak ticket.

THE illuminated parade of the wheelmen last night was a decided success. The weird and fanciful display gave great satisfaction, and it is hoped that the wheelmen will repeat their parade as a regular feature of the annual festivities.

THE local Republican platform "points with pride" to the National tariff, the fate of which is supposed to depend on the local ticket, but it wholly fails to "view with alarm" the unsavory record of its own nominees. The platform should be

A very significant item of foreign news is the statement that the Austrian military attache at Sofia has been instructed to encourage the Bulgarian agents to resist the demands of Russia! This signifies that Austria is ready to uphold Bularis with armed support and that she is support necessary.

THE POST-DISPATCH yesterday did Mr GILLIAM, the Republican Senatorial candidate, the injustice of ascribing to him the remark that the time had not yet come for the colored people to hold office. It is Mr. BULKLEY of Silk Stocking celebrity who is entitled to the credit of this very original observation, and Mr. GILLIAM had nothing to do with it.

On the Manay of Fair Week, when 80,000 school shildren are invited and admitted free to the Fair Grounds, they are all kept in school or marked down for absence and missing recitations. Still so many of them go that the schools do little good that day. But on Thursday, when the children have to pay their way in to the over-crowded grounds, and when most parents would rather not have them go there, the schools are dismissed. Thus two school days are spoiled and the children are practically deprived of the day at the Fair Grounds which is offered to them. It is strange that such a blunder. ing arrangement as this should be persisted in from yaar to year.

One of the most attractive features of the Republica a ticket is the manly independence of party displayed in the nomination of Mr. O'BBIEN, the editor of the American Celt, for the office of Clerk of the Criminal Court. The convention was under the impression that Mr. O'BRIEN was a Republican, and Mr. O'BRIEN probably considers himself a Republican six days in the week. But on the seventh day he dons the editorial toga, and, wielding the tripod of indeondence, calls on his fellow-citizens to support Mr. GLOVER for Congress and Mr. FARRELLY for Recorder of Deeds. We have no hesitation in declaring that over the Slavic autonomies of the former Mr. O'BRIEN is a bigger man than GROVER dueted in part by Mr. Longe, who has just been defeated for the stantinople. nomination for Judge of the Criminal Court, and that the Mr. VASTINE who obtained the nomination was McCHEs-NEY's lawyer and bondsman and he was aided by Mr. VALLIANT, who advertises that he is a candidate for the same position on the Democratic ticket. We believe that neither one of the two gentlemen who now aspire to control the Criminal Court has ever appeared there except in the Mo-CHESNEY case. McCHESNEY, it will be remembered, was convicted, but has never been called on to serve his time.

THE SPOILS DOCTRINE.

It is to be regretted that the President's effort to carry out his civil-service-reform promises have been so awkward and so unsatisfactory to his party. The masses of that party were and still are well disposed towards a genuine civil-service reform. They are tired of seeing the public service degraded to the uses of a mere party machine. They want no office-holding bosses with their paid retainers packing primaries and controlling conventions on either side. They want the Federal offices below a certain grade administered on a business basis and kept out of politics, instead of being made agencies of political corruption and the prizes of boss rule with sweeping changes at every election.

But such desires have been baffled and discouraged by the mugwumpery which has kept a preponderance of Republicans in office under a Democratic Administration, and which has, in making too few removals, put far too many Democrats in office who are without honor in their own lass of old Republican partisans in office. And it is this disappointment which enourages so many Democratic leaders to unfurl again the old Marcy flag with It for some more inviting region. ts "clean sweep" legend, "To the vioors belong the spoils." That seems to be the only issue between WILLS and Ca-RUTH, two Democrats who are rival candidates for Congress in Louisville. "I am opposed to the idea of civil-service reform," says Mr. CARUTH. "I believe the offices should be kept as the rewards of party service." Here in Missouri Senator Cockrell's family organ not only indorses this doctrine but declares that 'every Democratic office-holder must take off his coat and go to work to keep his party in power." If the Democratic party is again driven back to this old abandoned position by the failure of Mr. CLEVELAND as a civil-service reformer, such a result will be bad for the country, but worse for the party. The people have progressed beyond that stale doctrine and the business of the Government has become too big a thing to be safely administered upon any such basis, while the danger from anplying such mighty spoils as a corrupting agency in polities can no longer be trifled with. If it is the Missouri idea that every office-holder must earn his pay by leaving his post of duty to work for party, we shall not only have State Judges fighting for party and begging for more offices from the bench, but Federal Judges doing the same thing, and elections controlled altogether by powerful and corrupt combinations of the office-holding class, wielding all the powers of Government against the people at the ballot-box, and intent only on keeping themselves in power regardless of the people's will.

BISMARCK AS PEACEMAKER.

BISMARCK needs no assurance from the co-operation of England if he chooses to support Austria's position on the Balkan question as defined in Tisza's speech. A brief telegram from BISMARCK to DE GIERS, announcing Germany's support of Austria, would check the Russian advance upon Constantinople when a dec laration of war by England, Austria and Turkey would not.

Russia recognizes the fact that the consent or neutrality of Germany must be had before Russia can grasp any territory or create any situation which she can use as the key to the realization of her cherished Pan-Slavic policy. That is what the Czars have all labored, waited and maneuvered for. That is why the Czars, are of German blood and Germans are so prominent in Russian affairs. But royal kinship and the expedients of state craft have no more Russianized Germany than they have Germanized Russia. The German race instinctively recognizes and cherishe its mission as the bulwark between the civilization of Europe and the Asiatio reaction which is incarnate in Russia The German from the Baltic to the Danub is as jealous of Slav influence or power in Europe as the Magyar in Hungary. Roumania, Bulgaria and other Slavio countries may be detached from Turkey with the consent of Germany, but not to be attached to Russia or to become mere puppets of Pan-Slavism. So there is no loubt that Tisza uttered the sentiments of both the German and the Magyar races in declaring that Austria would resist the authority Russia is seeking to acquire

> Again the highways of the continent are bringing crowds from all our sister States to the great St. Louis Fair, and for a week we shall witness the culmination of such a protracted social and business carnival as no other American city has ever known. No other city has ever entertained so many national conventions and conclaves as we have had here since last year's Exposition was opened. No other city has had so many strangers within her gates and sent them away sounding her praises from ocean to ocean. And the Fair was the origin and still is the crowning glory of it all. By it St. Louis is known to all the interests and industries of the Union. It brings here in friendly emulation the producers of all that is best in agriculture, stock-breeding, the manufactures and the arts. It makes St. Louis the industrial and commercial college of the continent, and distinguishes her so far above all sister cities that they have all abandoned attempts to rival her in this repect. Since the Exposition was inaugurated on such a grand and successful basis in aid of the Fair, the permanence and peerless superiority of both are assured. But only because the city which made them what they are can be relied on to keep them far ahead of all competition, and to maintain her well-earned reputation as a hospitable entertainer of visiting multitudes.

The parallel does not run very close. The nce is that Mayor Cleveland did not owe his official position to executive favor, but to the choice of the people. A Judge on the Stump.

From the Kansas City Star. Judge Philips' persistent refusal to resign his position as Appellate Judge while he is party and of the same type as the worst is eternally ruined and that all the fruits running for Congress can be attributed only to one of two reasons. Either he is afraid he cannot be elected to Congress and desires or that account to retain his present place or he is determined to use the influ-ence which attaches to the office of judge, in order to advance his political pre expire till 1889 and, if he shall fall to be in which, as Judge of the Appellate Court, to ork out his revenges against those who dar to oppose his congressional ambition. His attitude in this matter is simply shocking. It is a defiant outrage upon propriety, a threat to the legal fraternity, and an insult to the community.

FOREIGN NOTES.

ONE of the most stupendous engineering ents of the world's history has jus een completed in England by the opening of the Severn Tunnel for goods traffic on the Great Western Railway. The building has occupied fourteen years of continuous and ardu ous labor, under the direction of Sir John Hawkshawe, the work being only completed in the face of almost incredible diffi-culties. The actual bore is nearly four and a under the estuary of the Severn. Seventy five million bricks have been used to line this giant bore. Four times have the works been flooded by the sea and by land springs, and over the middle of the tunnel during the highest tides there is more than 150 feet of water. Divers have had to be employed only less frequently than navvies, and it was found ecessary to build a wall fifteen feet thick to rotect the workings from the land water on advisable to erect duplicate pumps capable of discharging considerably more than 1,000,000 gallons of water per hour.

THE Queen of England has spent a long life une relates that while in the Adirondacks last in doing good, but just now she is busily en-gaged in doing mischief. Not satisfied with clothes. The latter, having expected at least dispatching Prince Henry of Battenberg off a quarter from such an exalted personage, post-haste to Bickenbach to meet his brother looked in astonishment from the 5-cent immediately on the latter's arrival, she very piece in his hand, and then said, slowly: turn with his brother on a visit to her at Ral. noral. This extraordinary proof of interest in the Prince's fortunes cannot fail to excite esentment both at Berlin and at St. Peters burg. The Prince of Wales is greatly annoyed at the proceeding, and both Lord Salisbury and Lord Iddesleigh have begged the Queen to defer receiving the Prince at the English ourt until the present excitement and irrita tion abroad have abated. The Princess of Wale is also much displeased at her unexpected "recall" from Denmark (where she has bee naking a pleasant visit to her relatives) simply on account of the Queen's desire that H. R. H. ould be present on the visit of the ex-Prince of Bulgaria to the English court.

THE land difficulty in Wales has assumed an awkward complexion the difficulty not being with the "rint" but with the tithes. Land owners in Wales are very reasonable in reducing their demands promptly enough, as soon as it becomes evident that the hard times make high rents unadvisable. The farmers now claim that the tithe-owners should do the same. The tithe-payers are combining to resist a demand which they consider unjust and are placing all the difficulties they can, in the way of the tithe owner, when he seeks to avail himself of the only remedy provided for him by the existing law-the power of distress. The anti-tithe agitation is spreading rapidly and taking an organized form. I is a bad business for all parties concerned. Parish is joining hand with parish to concert

SUICIDE in France is increasing with aston hing rapidity. The report on the administration of criminal justice in France for the year 1884, which has just been issued by the Department of Justice, shows that the annua verage of suicides in the five years ending 1885 was 3,639; it then progressively rose in the following quinquennial periods to 4,002, 4,661, 4,990, 5,276 and 6,259 in the five years 1876 to 1880. During the last five, it has steadily and consistently increased in much the same proportion until in 1884 the number aggregated 7,377. The pro-portion per 100,000 inhabitants has doubled om 10 to 20 in thirty years. The report makes no attempt to acc greater prevalence of despondency that drives individuals to self-destruction. Four-fifths of the cases were by men, and the tendency to ommit suicide appears to increase with age which is natural enough. Men engaged in agricultural pursuits afford the largest pro

Are Saying This Morning.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch. to-day: "With full recognition of the necessity and usefulness of corporations, no opposition to a plutocratic government is consist ent with a free acknowledgment of the manifold services which wealth is capable of ren dering, and, in many instances, does render to society. But when monopolies oppress the people, and when wealth grinds the face of the poor, makes merchandise of public honors, corrupts politics and seeks to absorb to itself the law-making, law-declaring and lawexecuting powers of the Government, the mo nopolies must be taught that they are the creatures and servants of the people, and ar ollars are not stronger than men, and au ocracy of money is alien to a Republic."

tocracy of money is alien to a Republic."

The Sun says: "Since the election of 1884 the discussion has been continual as to whether it actually was a victory or not, whether the Democracy in electing their ticket, has already achieved a triumph. The election in New York in 1885 indicated that the triumph had been genuine, but this does not appear to nave been the case in New England, for no Democrat can look upon the nomination of Mr. Andrew without being forced to the conclusion that the Democracy has been whipped in Massachusetts." THE TIMES.

The Times says: "The growth of the doctrines of socialists and anarchists in this country may not be due to a belief that thieves who are rich, or who have rich friends escape the punishment that poor offenders must suffer, but it has undoubtedly been stimulated by failure to punish men, in and out of public life, whose guilt was notorious. To the man who is on the point of accepting anarchists' doctrines, the escape of a corrupt public offeer, or of a thieving cashier, is proof that society should be reorganized in accordance with his plan."

THE TRIBUNE.

The Tribune says: "The theory upon which the Democratic managers habitually act is that the people are so ignorant or care so little about their Government that the most impudent assertions can he made with perfect safety and no accusations or proofs of bad faith or misconduct ever need notice. It may be that they are right. When civil-service reformers solemnly approve the President who made Higgins Appointment Clerk and Oberly Chairman of the Civil Service Commission; when Members of Congress who pretend to favor protection 'indorse' a President who labored to secure the passage of the Morrison bill, against which those members voted, one is ied to wonder whether any untruth or deception is so palpable that these men would ception is so palpable that these men would think it unsafe."

HOLROYD'S

FOR MEN.

The originator of the Derby Ribbed Underwear has been a manufacturer of Knit Goods for the past twenty-four years, and during that time has pro-duced nearly all the styles of Knit Underwear known to the trade. This experience has applied known to the trade. This experience has enabled him to become thoroughly acquainted with every department of this branch of manufacture, and the HOLROYD UNDERWEAR, now so celebrated, are the legitimate outgrowth of that long experience. They are nowhere slighted, but are as near perfection as skill, best material, patient care, and the most improved machinery can make them, and each year's largely increased sales fully attest their reconlarity.

nomination of Charles O'Brien for Clerk of the same court is the secondary cause of the disaffection which makes the position of a Republican candidate an extremely unenviable one. Yesterday afternoon the atmosphere around Republican headquarters and the hotel rotundas, where politicians most do congregate, was thick with rumors affecting the presence on the Republican ticket of Isaac Mason, J. D. Johnson and Fred Mott, candidates respectively for Sheriff, Judge of the Circuit Court and Clerk of the Circuit Court. Reports were handed about of statements credited to these gentlemen, in which at least one of them was made to say that he did net care to run if Vastine remained on the ticket, and it appeared to be pretty well understood that an effort would be made by the three nominees to contintued in his refusals to discuss the subject.

After Vastine's, the most objectionable name on the Republican ticket is that of Charles O'Brien, candidate for Olerk of the Ciminal Court. The Second District Convention will be held in Central Turner Hall, and will be composed of delegates from the First, Third, Tenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth and Nineteenth Wards. The Third District Convention will be composed of delegates from the Eighth, Sixteenth, Eighteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-third, Twenty-sixth, Twentieth, Twenty-third, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Wards, and will be held in North St. Louis Turner Hall. The Fourth District Convention will be held in Social Turner Hall and will be composed of delegates from the Twenty-fourth, Sixth, Tweltith and Fourteenth Wards.

As was the case with the Senatorial Conventions held yesterday, there are very few candidates mentioned for the Representative nomination. The only names mentioned in this connection are those of Thomas C. Martin and Chris. Overbeck in the Second District; Chris. Schawacker, in the First; William Scudder, W. and Jno. Gilling-water, in the Third, and Henry Feuerbach in the Fourth District.

The number of candidates to be nominated by the different conventions is as follows: In the First District, three; Second District, four.

The friends of Billy Waters are very inived at the hands of Henry Erb, who se cured the nomination for Clerk of the Court of Criminal Correction. It appears that Erb called on Waters a short time before the convention met and told him he would withdraw in his (Waters') favor, Erb to be given the chief deputyship in case of the election of Waters. He told Waters not to have any tickets printed or go to any election-eering expense. Under this promise, Waters quit working for the place feeling that his nomination was assured. It was agreed that Erb should, apparently, remain in the race in order to keep other candidates off the track, but when the time for making nominationa, came, he was to throw his entire feroe over to Waters, which, with the latter's strength, would insure his nomination. As is well known now, Erb failed to keep his part of the agreement and took the nomination for himself. Water's friends are very indignant and say that they will scratch fairly; put there by a Republican Convention, and is on the ticket to stay. This talk of JORNSON, MASON, ET AL... is only a little game of bluff. They will all be on the ticket on the day of election and so will Vastine. Among other things that I heard about Johnson last night was a report that he was getting so pure that he seriously contemplated entering a nunnery. All that I have to say to Mr. Johnson on the nunnery question is to repeat the advice of Hamlet to Ophelia. Brother Charley can tell him what that is."

The Republicans yesterday afternoon nominated a State Senatorial ticket as follows: Henry L. Rogers of the Sixteenth Ward, in the Thirty-fourth District; J. A. Gilliam of the Eighteenth Ward, in the Thirty-second District the nominating convention was postponed until 4 p. m., October 9.

Fred Mott, Assessor and Collector of Water Rates, nominated on the Republican ticket for Clerk of the Circuit Court, who figures in the anti-Vastina triumvirate, when approached upon the subject of yesterday's caucus, said: "I have nothing to say upon the matter and don't wish to discuss the position of Mr. Vastine or any other candidate."

"Well, did you attend such a meeting at Mr. Johnson's office?"

"Whetever caucuses or conferences I may have had with candidates are private matters and I don't wish to, nor am I at liberty to speak of them."

When asked if an effort was being made, or would be made, to retire Vastine, Mr. Mott continued in his refusals to discuss the subject.

No parade that has been born of St. Louis enterprise and progress has received more praise from the populace than was showered upon the wheelmen last night by the immense throngs that crowded the streets in dense masses. The appliause they won was an evidence not only that their efforts to glorify the city were appreciated, but also that after everything has been said the wheel and its devotees enjoy a good share of popularity. This was all the more a surprise because in the Natatorium, before the parade started, several bystanders fliled the boys' ears full of the Natatorium, before the parade started, several bystanders fliled the boys' ears full of the Natatorium, before the parade started, as the proposed the started of the crowd, for which the wheelmen extendible the parade started, as the proposed to the parade and the benefits accruing will be disappeared, and they were not loth to hope that in the good-natured railleys and there is such a prejudice against Philip pression and Locust they had to ride in the good-natured railley and the proposed to the parade and the benefits accruing will be not the proposed to the parade and the benefits accruing will be not contributed acceptance of the parade and the benefits accorating anyone.

the Natatorium, before the parade started, several bystanders filled the boys' ears full of such opinions as that voiced by a policeman, who said: "Oh, the parade will have clear streets. You see the nights are so chilly and there is such a prejudice against bleveling that there won't be much of a crowd on hand." When the line started, though, the wheelmen found that the prejudice had disappeared, and they were not loth to hope that in the good-natured raillery and the loud applause they heard the death-knell of the much talked about prejudice. For about two hours they were the heroes of the night, and that they earned the distinction by their beautiful display, no one doubted.

GETTING READY.

The fancifully costumed squads were decked out at the Natatorium which was the scene of bustle and excitement as the hour for starting drew near. Every member, however, was promptly on hand and by 7:45 nearly all the preparations were completed. The various divisions took places on the streets bordering on Nineteenth and Pine, the front being as far west as Jefferson avenue. At the signal the riders pushed their gaily decorated wheels on to the asphalt and at the command mounted, and fell into line to the accompaniment of music. The police had not looked for such throngs of spectators and very naturally it was difficult to get the line under way and moving smoothly. As the various flambean squads reached the asphalt they set off their red torches which threw their beautiful color over houses and trees and spectators. By the time the line was fairly moving the new moon had set and the dark sky afforded a beautiful background for the rich light. As each squad formed at its place, ready to enter the line, the crowd, catching a sight even of the pet dark designs, imagined what the beauty would be, broke into a mormur of applause which swelled into a roar of admirration as, atthe signal to light, every candle brought out the colors of the different latters and threw the shiping wheels into leave to-day. The sentiment among the delegates who had arrived in town last night was that the present system of government in the order would be materially sitered. It was believed that the districts would either be done away with entirely or subordinated in a large degree to the State assemblies if allowed to remain. The order has within the last year so completely outgrown its old system that a change of some sort was deemed absolutely lessen the importance of the district assembles and in cases like District Assembly No. 49 in New York City, where a great socialistic machine has been built up, it will tend to take away most of their power. It was also claimed that another Martin Irons strike will be impossible under the new system, and that matter will go into the hands of the State Assembly or its executive board of the District Assembly discentive board of the District Ass

Every day and all day long cooking by the new process is carried on in the presence of the public who are invited. In addition to economy of both their and time there is an almost incredible saving in the food. Meab by the old process of cooking loses by shrinkage 40 per cent. of its weight while with the gauze door less than 8 per cent is lost. A great saving of labor is also made, as the meat cooks in its own juice and requires no basting. Bread, biscult and roasts are cooked that the public may visit and see for themselves.

A Glasgow paper attest that Scotch grantle is now sent from that city to London by the way of New York. It is presumed that both the wheat and grantle are used as ballist. A paper devoted to sheep husbandry states that the wool raised in Southern Australia was taken from Adelaide to San Francisco by steamer, carried to New York by rail, reshipped and laid down in London for a less sum than wool was carried from New Mexico to Philadelphia. The sheep raisers of Utah, unable 40 obtain reasonable rates for sending their wool to Eastern markets, paid the local rates on it from Orden to San Francisco, and then sent it to New York. By having it in San Francisco they were able to take advantage of the rates made in order to secure the transportation of wool produced in Australia and New Zealand. The

The entire cost of trasportation was 48 cents per 100 poends which was about 49 per cent less than the railway rates before the recent reduction. During a considerable part of last summer it cost less to ride from Unicaco to San Francisco than to go half way across the State of California. During the same period persons living 100 miles west or north of Chicago and wishing to visit St. Paul paid their fare to this city, bought tickets to the capital of Minnesota, and rode back over the road on which they came.

The Tithes in Wales.

The Tithes in Wales.

From the Chicago News.

The Weish farmers object to the payment of tithes to the Church of England, and serious trouble is expected. Theoretically every man in England and Wales is a member of the established church, but in fact such a supposition is very far from the truth. It is estimated that in 1883 the population of England and Wales actually claming membership with the Church of England was 18,000,000 leaving about 12,500,000 claiming membership with other churches. The proportion of persons who are not members of the established church is far greater in Wales than in England; probably not more than one-fourth of the Weish people are adherents, while all except the Roman Catholies are forced to contribute to its support. It is a little singular that the revenues of the established church in England and Wales are not acurately known, but from all sources they are estimated at $40,000,000 annually. It is equally uncertain what portion of this is paid by the people of Wales, their share being made up from tithes, lands, church rates, pew rents, Easter offerings and surplice fees. Formerly tithes were paid in kind, but in 1881 they were converted into rent charges, payable in money.

Recently when the tithes in Wales became due the farmers either could not or would not pay them, and their cattle and personal property were selzed and are to be sold to satisfy their dues to the church. The Weish are a rugged, simple, honest people, with the spirit that always is to be found in the peasantry of a mountainous country. The tithes have long been hated by the people, and successful resistance to their collection is simply a question or time. The diseatablishment of the church must soone or later take place in Wales, as it lins in Ireland and Scotland. If the tithes are now enforced is will deepen the prejudice of the Weish people against them and paye the way to their abolition. From the Chicago News.

Joseph P. Vastine is a candidate on the Re n ticket for Judge of the Criminal Court, and in the acceptance of the honors conferred upon him by Thursday's convention has authorized the fullest an swer to the question, "Is this Mr. Vastine who -?" The court records and the career of the candidate would indicate that it is identically the same person. The latest City Directory defines the candidate as "Jo-seph P. Vastine, lawyer, 423 Chestnut st.; livery, 3400 Lindell av. ; r. No. 3225 Pine st.' The report of Referee Nathaniel Holmes, filed in the Circuit Court at the February term, 1878, in the case of Johnson vs. Thomas, is more definite in its character. Therein th judicial candidate and his conduct in the case in question are referred to as follows:

indicial candidate and his conduct in the case in question are referred to as follows:

"The transaction with Brewster was evidently a sham and had no legal validity."

"The conduct of Vastine, with reference to Mathews, the trustee, was sheer deception and imposition. His representations to him were manifestly talse."

"His (Vastine's) exhibition of the document to the trustee as evidence of the right of Brewster to join with him in the execution of release was a false pretense, which he must have known to be untrue."

Ex-Judge Nathaniel Holmes was a temperate conservative man, who had no grievance and whose sentiments in this report were the CALM JUDGMENT BASED ON THE FACTS brought to his attention in the sworn testimony offered him. The case in which Judge Holmes was appointed referee was a suit brought by John Johnson against Emile Thomas and others to have a fraudulent release of a deed of trust set aside. The property involved was the Lake farm which was deeded October 9, 1871, to Leonard Matthews, trustee for Thos. E Tust, for $6,000. The property was sold, subsequently, and W. H. Maurice undertook the original deed of trust. Two additional deeds were executed. Subsequently it was desired to secure a release of claims on some of the property without satisfying the claims in the regular way. It was at this point Josoph P. Vastine's connection, so scathingly criticised in the report, began. He induced a friend and client, John P. Mullaily, the livery man, to purchase the securities December 12, 1873, for the amount and the interest due on the representation that it was a good investment. Mullaily understood that he was to get sixty-two acres as security for $6,100 which he had paid out, but on examining the papers found he had ninety acres on the plat, but Vastine and W. H. Maurice explained that certain portions were released or were to be released.

The report of the referee says: "It appears that on the same day or not later than the day after Vastine came to his (Mullaily's) place of having these lot

The report of the referee says: "It appears in gaye notice of an application to enjoin the Eiy & Walker Dry Goods Company from interfering with anchoring-rod operations through the party-wail between the Frank premises and the Eiy & Walker premises.

Judge Adams stated that the shaking caused by the tunnel traffic had necessitated the reconstruction of the Frank foundation walls; that the west wail had sunk three inches, and that under a party-wail agreement his clients desired to place rods and plates for anchoring purposes through that wall. The Eiy & Walker Co., however, had interposed objections and as it was a case of leasement of necessity, all parties were anxious to have the Court decide the matter.

Mr. Rochester Ford represented the Eiy & Walker Company and the position taken by them is that the Frank Building was defectively constructed in the first place and that it is now sought to strengthen the walls by borting through their premises. The matter will be heard before Judge Lubke on Monday.

A Peculiar Notice.

Judge Adams in the suit of Larimore and others against A. J. Cooper, stated in court this morning before Judge Lubke that he appear and show cause why a commitment for contempt should not issue in respect of a refusal on the part of the Secretary of the Union Building Company to furnish information of the number of shares held by the defendant in the company. The Sheriff is endeavoring to satisfy an attachment. As the parties were not present noting was done, and Judge Adams said he was prepared to do anything that the court required in the premises.

A Saloon Loiteres.

"A very little while, not more than five minutes."
"I returned the notes and deed of trust to Mr. Mulially. I left the release at the office of the Recorder of Deeds, and paid him $1 for recording."
In concluding his opinion of this legal business conducted by Mr. Vastine, Judge Holman says:

'The release must be deemed to have been executed without any competent legal author-ity; and I am clearly of opinion that it was ob-tained by false and fraudulent representations and should be declared a nullity on the ground of fraud."

ity; and I am clearly of opinion that it was obtained by false and fraudulent representations and should be declared a nullity on the ground of fraud."

And so Mr. Joseph P. Vastine is recorded in the files of the Circuit Court.

VASTINE AND M'CHESNEY.

The convention orators waxed eloquent over the intess of Joseph P. Vastine for the criminal bench. Besides his integrity, his eminent ability was presented. Every word of praise of his competency did duty at the convention. The facts, however, scarcely bear out these flattering speeches. The first, last and only appearance of Joseph P. Vastine at the criminal bar that the lawyers and officials can recall was as attorney for Warren F. McChesney, who was tried and convicted on a charge of fraud. His interest was more than professional. Besides being attorney he was also bondsman. The ties between the lawyer and his distinguished client seemed particularly close. While Col. Tom Thoroughman, associate counsel, was spinning yarns in the Circuit Attorney's office during the recesses Mossrs. Jos. P. Vastine and L. B. Valliant were in close confab with the mysterious manipulator, who, through the exertions of the Law and Order League, was danded in the defendant's chair. Mr. Joseph G. Lodge, the leading counsel for the Law and Order League, made a relentless prosecution against McChesney. In remembrance of this M'CHESNEY LOANED HIS INFLUENCE in Thursday's convention and is doubtless well pleased with the result. But he is no ordinary performer. He has more than one string to his bow, and is now advocating the nomination of his other attorney, L. B. Valliant, for the same position on the Democratic ticket. The Questionable Transactions of a Nation Bank President.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., October 2 .- It was earned this morning that H. K. Simonds. Presiden of the Franklin County National Bank, at Greenfield Mass., had resigned on account of an investigation of the bank's affairs by Bank Examiner Gatchell. Diector Sanderson was elected president proector Sanderson was elected president proem. It is alleged that about $34,000 worth of paper of very questionable haracter has come into the possession of the ank, mostly that of Simonds. Simonds is a large tockholder in the bank, the prosperity of which has een somewhat impaired of late, and it is thought he esorted to improper methods to make good his object. The Examiner estates that the bank is still object and examiner states that the bank is still pair.ted. Almost all of the private exhibition buildings have been repainted within and without.

In the agricultural field beyond the race-rack one or two additional buildings have seen erected. The agricultural machine combanies have a plant now worth probably $100,-00. There are thirty buildings, all of unique esign and handsomely decorated. They repesent every large manufacturer of agricultural machinery in the United States. In front of these buildings which occupy a space all to themselves, is a roadway for the exhibition of road engines, etc. The display of agricultural implements this year is larger than ever before.

SWINE AND POULTRY.

The Swine Department is near the agricultural field. It is not as conveniently located as the other departments, but it interests only one class of visitors. The Poultry Department which is universally interesting, is in the same location it occupied last year. The 246 new coops which filled the poultry building last year have been supplemented by sixty more in an addition in the rear of the main building. The crowded condition of the poultry-house last year rendered the addition necessary. A charge of 25 cents each for the use of the coops has kept out common fowi and this year's exhibition is made up almost entirely of high-bred birds. R. E. M. Bain is Superintendent of the Poultry Department this year.

Mr. Storrs both smoked to excess and drank freely during the latter days of his life. He was like a tired racer, whose willing brain but dragging limbs demanded the whip and spur. He worked night and day. He chased reluctant judges all over the State of Illinois, and forced them by the power of his intellect and the cogency of his reasoning to do his bidding. His master mind could wrest a decision from the supreme Court of the United States, and had he lived it is probable that J. C. Mackin would to-day have been a power in Chicago politice instead of a convict. But the "gang' leaders who dreaded Mackin found means to close his mouth and to make a war with Storrs, who had become daugerous. The lawyer was not vulgarly and in a hurry, but with all due regard for appearances and the progress of the polson acting on a frame enfeebled by hard work and temporary excess. Day after day the drug, in medical doses, found its way into the liquor that brought temporary strength to the worn-out but determined advocate. The drug is cumulative in its action, and one morning the coliapse began and the deadiy work was under way. Mrs. Storrs was suddenly summoned to her husband's bedside. Early on the morning of September 12, 1885, he woke, smoked a cigar, and insisted that the watcher by his couch should take some needed rest. Then he turned his face to the wall and fell asleep. When the morning sun entered the room and Mrs. Storrs awoke the patient lay calm, still the greatest care as to where, when and in whose company."

"Do you mean to intimate that any suspicion nangs about the death of Storra?"

"I mean to say," he answered with significant emphasis. "that in his loss I lose my case, and that once at Joliet I shall be out of the way of the people who would not dare refuse my demands if I gained liberty without imprisonment. Some one other than Joseph Mackin will be the next United States Marshal for the Northern District of Illinois. If you want to find out anything else regarding what I think, you will have to search elsewhere, for I aim not yet in a position to say more than I already have."

This conversation occurred on Saturday,

This conversation occurred on Saturday,
September 12, 1855, the date of Storrs' death.
In a little more than a month Mackin's prophecy came true, for on November 10, 1885, he was received as a convict at the Joliet Penitantiary under a five years' sentence for perthe same can be said of the company's free retary. OLEARING THE LOCAL WARWICK.

Two Democrats and one Republican were alleged to be the principals in the fraud. Storrs had been always a Republican. Had the bail lot-box swindle worked, it would have sent a Democrat to the Legislature. Although in receipts of a large income Mr. Storrs was a poor man. Money slipped through his hands like water through a sleve. He hesitated about identifying himself with the case, but finally agreed to undertake it on condition that, his fee should be guaranteed. There was some hesitation on the part of Mackin's backers and then the prisoner "declared himself." He knew more of the dark and underhanded work of "the gang," than any living man. He had been the trusted lieutenant of Mike MoDonald, Corcoran, Harrison, Everbart and the great coterie of gamblers who depended on the bosses for immality. Mackin asserted that if protection and financial aid were not forthcoming he would utilize enough of power to send a few other men besides himself to the pen. Storrs came high, but Storrs he would have or the confident of the late political secretary and manager might look out for squalis. were two men who had their work out out for them in advance. There was to be no hurry, but the job was to be done. Liquer and cigars abounded, but in the liquor there was an insidious poison which piled up on the system of the doomed man until on that fatal Friday it clutched his vitais and landed him a corpse in his bed at the hotel early on Saturday, September 12. It was paralysis of the heart which cut short and at the early age of 50 years one of the ablest men the American bar has ever seen brighten its annals. A partial confession has already been obtained from one of the tools who was instrumental in Storrs' assassination, and the man is now under the constant surveillance of a detective.

NEW YORK, October 2.-Margaret Mather, a and Mather's bank books, which showed deposits of several thousand dollars. About the end of August last she was arrested in Eighth street walle intexicated. On searching her room the police found the dead body of her infant daughter, who had died from neglect. The Rev. Father Keefe, another priest, persuaded her to give up to him the bank books to keep for the other children. She then sank lower than ever and the neighbors complained of her as a nuisance. Housekeeper John Frier obtained a dispossess warrant yesterday and, when he knocked repeatedly at the door, no one rosponded. He broke open the window and found Mrs. Mather lying on the bed dead, with a rum bottic clasped to her hosom and several other empty rum and whiskey bottles lying about the room. The body was already in an advanced stage of decomposition. The Public Administrator took charge of the property found in the room.

Last night Col. Tom Radburn had Directors Dan Houser and R. M. Scruggs rolling over each other in the Treasurer's office, where he told an excellent story on Secretary Johnson's economy. Mr. Block said the story was of the genus castanes, botanically speaking. "Oh. he's economy to the backbone," said the Colonel. "To-day he sent that obliging young assistant of bis—Pierce, I believe his name's—down to tell Glimore to call up at the office after the concert, The Professer and I had just determined to go out and hunt up a good drink of Old Tom gin, and so I went up with him. As we walked into Johnson's office he received us pleasantly but seemed to be in an apologetic mood. "Of course Professor," said he, "you won't take any offense at my suggestions. I understand of course that your time is taken up beating tunes for the band, but I want to tell you something. Whenever you turn to the cornets waving that stick, every clarlonet player on the other side stops, and when you turn to the clarionets every d—d hornblower stops the minute your back is turned. Now these men get paid and there's no excuse for this soldiering. "Ask Gilmore if you doubt me."

WEARY OF THE WORLD. A Prominent Merchant of Charleston, S. C. Cuts His Throat.

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 2.-The dead body of Alexander McLoy was found yesterday afternoon in a marsh in Cooper River, three miles from the city. Thursday morning Mr. McLoy left home and went to the gunpow-der magazine, near which his body was found. He took off his coat and vest and cut his throat with a knife. After vest and cut his throat with a knife. After doing this he walked thirty feet and tumbled into the marsh. Mr. McLoy was a member of the late firm of McLoy, Rice & Co., which was compelled to cease business on account of the death of Mr. Rice, the New York member of the firm. He had lost all he owned and had been in despair since his business closed. It is supposed that mental aberration, brought on by despondency, caused his suicide. Mr. McLoy was about 55 years old and one of the most highly respected men in the community. He left a widow and three children.

A sneak thief entered the room of James Ols-forth at 2353 South Broadway, last night, and tole an open-faced silver watch. W. A. Atkins' residence, 1835 North Jefferson avenue, was entered by a sneak thief yester day evening, and a lady's gold watch stolen. The report of Special Agent Holmes of the Humans Society, for the week ended, shows 31 warnings given; 5 reported cases remedied without prosecution and one was prosecuted. Fourteen animals were taken from work, and 2 were killed as unfit for further use.

guests are told that present engagements can only be made to Monday morning. After that rooms must take all they will hold. The Lin-dell makes no engagements at all, the experi-ence of conclave week having convinced the managers that the best plan would be to remanagers that the best plan would be to reserve no rooms, but give all guests as they arrive the best to be had at that time. If engagements are made for a certain room on a certain day the guests who arrive previously are given that room with the understanding that they must surrender it for the benefit of the person who made the engagement when he arrives. In this way a guest is offended and no one is benefited, not even the hotel. It gains the ill will of one guest without a corresponding gain in the good will of another. The Southern adheres to the engagement plan, and has between 800 and 400 people already assigned rooms for the week. The Laclede has numerous engagements, and all the hotels expect an extraordinary run of business. The cots will be resorted to again to accommodate the rush, and all available space utilized. The rush will begin Sunday night and reach its height on Wednesday morning. Inquiries, arrivals and all signs indicate the crowds will be greater than ever before.

Trouble. Grossburg, a peddler who visits disreputable houses about the city selling the women inderwear, called at Ida Quinn's house, No. lol North Tenth street, the other day and wanted to get one of her boarders to leave and go to a house on Thirteenth street. Ida found him there in the yard and ordered him away. He resused to go, and after the usual exchange of compliments, she picked up a piece of coal and hit him for the eye, cutting his face and discoloring the orb and surrounding skin. He had her arrested for disturbing the peace, and she preferred a counter charge against him. At the station he gave the name of Charles Williams, and as he had no license made out in that name, a charge of peddling without a license was also preferred against him. This morning when he discovered what trouble his giving an assumed name had got him into he gave his right name. As he had a license an in that name, the case of peddling without a license against him was nolle prosequied. Judge Cady fined him and the woman $5 each for disturbing the peace, and told Grossburg he had better get into some other business than selling underwear to disreputable women.

Col. Morrison's Canvass. Col. W. R. Morrison, "Horizontal Bill." was at the Planters' this morning, on his way to Carlyle, Ill., his home. Col. Morrison never travels east or west, north or south, but at one end or the other of his journey, he manages to register at the Planters'. He is thoroughly occupied with his canvass in the Nineteenth District, and says he does not occupy himself with National questions now. He has no doubt of his ability to win the race, and is putting all his energy into the canvass. He does not seem much worn with the effort, and entertained a few friends who called.

CHARGES AGAINST FORD. The Champion Amateur Athlete Accused of Being /a Professional.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch.
New York, October 2.—Among the athletirecord holders is the name of M. W. Ford, ound athlete in this country, but some of his doings of late have raised the ire of the amadeing and trans have been laid to catch the amateur who is said to be more of a professional than those who earn their living at games which call for strength of limb and fleetness. The authority ior the statement that Ford has over-stepped the line which separates the amateur from the professional is Geo. Ross, who swears that he competed with Ford at Springfield, Mass., on the 5th of July, 1885. Ford at that time was known as J. Williams, and took part in the running contests. In the 100 yard run Ford took second prize, Mr. Slattery winning. He competed in the running high jump. This netted him $25 which Ross swears he collected for Ford. Not only does Ross swear to these things but Tom Aitkens, the jumper, also accused Ford of taking part in professional athlette games. fessional than those who earn their living a mistaken.

The above special telegram explains the reports so freely circulated about a month and a half ago with reference to the forced resignation of Malcolm Ford from an Eastern athletic club. The reports said only that Ford had resigned under pressure, and did not dilate on the exact cause for the pressure. If Ford's accuser is honest, and if the charges are proven, the amateur athletic world will be minus one of its brightest lights.

THE HALF-MILE CHAMPIONSHIP. Lingo and Barstow are the Favorites in the . Coming Contest. The coming half-mile sweepstakes for the championship of the West between Murphy, Barstow and Lingo, which will take place Sunday, October 10, is creating a furore in athletic circles, and promises to be the most interesting and closely contested event has been in active training for the past two months, Andwill toe the scratch in the pink of condition. Each has a host of admirers, and a good sum of money is being put up on the result. At present Lingo and Barstow are the favorites with Murphy for third choice. This is due to Murphy's having never run the distance, and it is thought by many that he will not be able to stay. Murphy, however, has proved himself to be an adept at any distance he has undertaken, and it is just possible he will favor that when the time arrives they will cover all the money offered. The event will be given at the People's and Standard to-morrow afternoon.

Sporting Notes.

Fishermen report that the tribe in the large Creve Cour Lake are generous in biting. Billy Keterstein, the real estate man, and Gus Dempster caught twenty-eight bass and fitteen large cropple between them.

Greek George and Gustav Schmitt will wrestle again this evening at the Casino Theater. The Greek is confident of downing the German a second time, and as the winner will get 40 per sent of the door receipts, the struggle will no doubt be a good one.

Dan Daly is showing the effects of his severe training very much. His flesh is much harder and firmer and he is rapidly reducing his weight. He calculates to be in fine condition and at 150 pounds when the night of his contest with LaBlanche arrives.

This accounts for "Rip's" enduring freshness and power to move the hearts of the audiences. The next festival plays will be given in $500. The next festival plays will be added. American opera which he has hamed william Penn." The music was composed and arranged by Mr. B. F. Baker, an ex-president of the Handel and Haydn Society. The scene is laid in the year 1682, and the story deals with the early life of William Penn, whom Mr. Sanford depicts as a very different personage from the one familiar to school children. He claims that there is good authority for the statement that Penn, as a young man, fought a duel, won a prize for his excellent dancing, and did a number of other things not generally ascribed to him.

Condition of Affairs in the Hazelton Coal

HAZLETON, Pa., October 2.-General Master Workman Powderly was expected vesterday to confer with a committee from District As-sembly 87, of which Hugh McGarvey of Beaver knowledge, and he is among the first of living comedians. Before he retires from the stage, which all lovers of it will wish long deferred, he could do wonders for comedy. A revival of classic comedy with Mr. Jefferson at the head of a fine company and with adequate accessories would be an enterprise of first interest and importance. It is possible to make such an enterprise not only an artistic but a financial success if properly managed. Mr. Jefferson cannot afford artistically to continue "Rip" to the end or his career.

Announcements.

The men have, acting on our advice, refrained from striking for some time. But their patience is being exhausted and we can no longer prevent them from making an effort to adjust their wages."

This is the latest circular, and comes from the Knights. The operators addressed reconize it as the last appeal but make no acknowledgment. Both Coxe and Pardee maintained studied silency about it. The Markie Bros., who appear that there will be "warrant for an increase in prices in October, and that any such advance will be followed by an increase in wages." The Markies made this statement in the September 29 issue of their paper, and were evidently

29 issue of their paper, and were evidently NOT INCLUDED IN POWDERLY'S CIRCULAR NOT INCLUDED IN POWDERLY'S CIRCULAR. There is no longer doubt that a date has be fixed for a strike. Master Workman McGar has received advices that the order to s work will be obeyed all over the region. I day fixed is October 28 next, at 12 o'cle noon. This is the order as officially sent S tember 30 to Master Workman McGarvey, sin that order is the additional caution "that is a just cause and must be won if it takes winter."

is a just cause and must be won if it takes all winter."

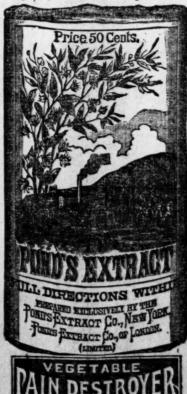

Mr. Bailey suggests that before finally agreeing on October 6 as the date, the entire case be laid before the full Board of National District Assembly 135, and the vote is now being taken by the members of the Executive Board. Mr. Bailey adds, "if we enter this fight, and fight we must enter it with our men on hand to defend our cause. The fight has been forced on us and it is ours now to never let up until we are unasters of the field." This then is the situation as Hazleton is compelled to view it. The miners ask for a restoration of the ten per cent reduction made in January, 1885, and this is all the more just when it is considered that toll rates on coal were increased twice in September. They were increased twice in September. I asked for a reduction in mine supplies met with a stern refusal.
